

LET'S TALK, READ AND SING ABOUT ADDITION AND SUBTRACTION

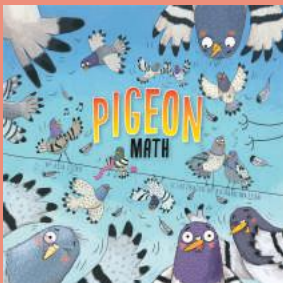

BOOK AND VIDEO RECOMMENDATIONS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

BOOKS

Pigeon Math

By: Asia Citro

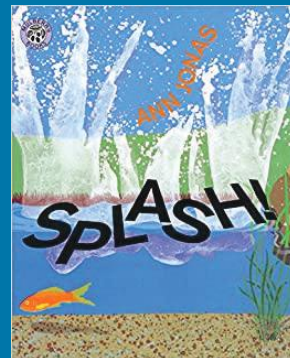

In this silly and fun book, a group of pigeons fly in and out of each scene. Children will have fun counting the pigeons as they come and go on each page.

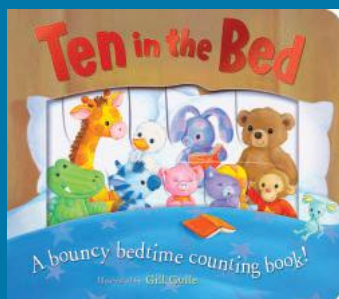

Splash

By: Ann Jonas

A young child asks, "How many are in my pond?" as a turtle, fish, frog, dog, and other animals jump in and out of her pond. Bright, colorful illustrations and simple text encourage children to practice addition and subtraction as animals come and go from the pond.

Ten in the Bed

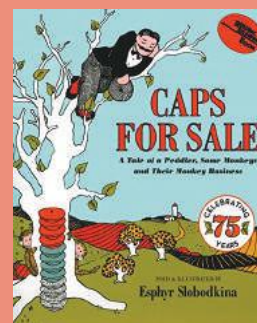

By: Tiger Tales

There were ten in the bed and the little one said, "Roll over! Roll over!" So they all rolled over and one fell out! Young children are introduced to the concept of subtraction in this adorable story, where one by one, cuddly stuffed animals fall out of bed.

Caps for Sale

By: Esphyr Slobodkina

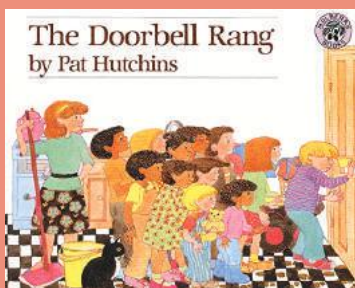

This classic tale is about a peddler who keeps a stack of caps on his head as he sells them throughout town. One day he takes a nap under a tree and some playful monkeys take all his caps! Children can talk about subtraction and addition as the peddler loses his caps and gets them back.

The Doorbell Rang

By: Pat Hutchins

As a doorbell rings, more and more friends come to visit and eat Ma's cookies ... but what will happen when there are no cookies left? In this simple story about sharing, children can practice the concepts of addition, subtraction, and division.

VIDEO

Let's Talk About Math: Everyday Fun with Addition and Subtraction

Did you know that babies and young children can easily practice addition and subtraction skills? When you count the number of letters in the mailbox with your little one or when you compare the number of snacks in two bowls, you're helping your child develop her early math skills! For more ideas on how to have everyday fun with addition and subtraction, watch the video here.

For more tips and information, please visit: www.talkingisteaching.org

