

LET'S TALK, READ AND SING ABOUT COUNTING

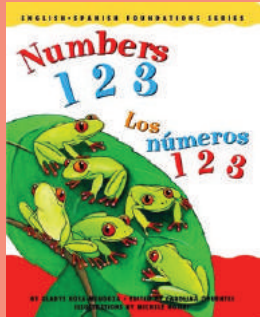

BOOK AND VIDEO RECOMMENDATIONS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

BOOKS

Numbers 1 2 3

By: Gladys Rosa-Mendoza

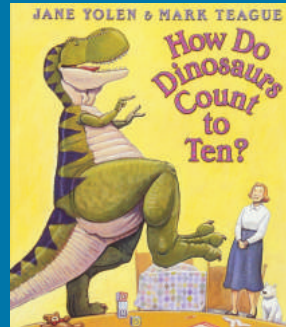

This colorful book is filled with all sorts of creatures, from turtles and toucans to frogs and iguanas! Little ones will love counting each creature. How many frogs are there all together?

How Do Dinosaurs Count to Ten?

By: Jane Yuen and Mark Teague

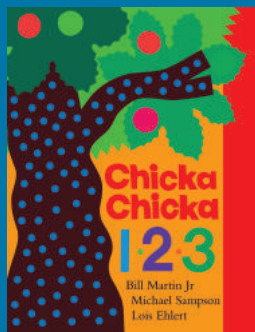

How does a dinosaur count to ten? By counting the toys and items in his room! From dirty socks to paint jars, the dinosaur has fun counting everything in his room. After reading this story together, encourage your little one to count the items in her room!

Chicka Chicka 1 2 3

By: Bill Martin, Jr. and Michael Sampson

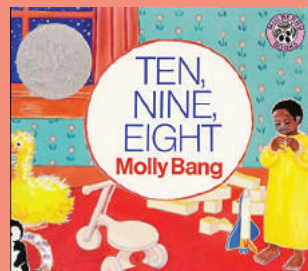

In this colorful, rhyming book, one hundred and one numbers climb up an apple tree. But Number Zero is not sure if it belongs. "Chicka chicka 1, 2, 3...will there be a place for me?" Join Number Zero as it finds its place with all of the other numbers. This book can be read, chanted, or even sung!

Ten, Nine, Eight

By: Molly Bang

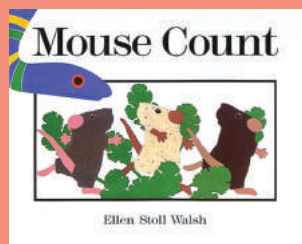

Join a father and his daughter during their bedtime routine. From washing ten toes, all the way to one girl tucked in bed, children will love counting down from ten to one. How can you bring counting into your bedtime routine with your little one?

Mouse Count

By: Ellen Stoll Walsh

A hungry snake catches and counts up ten little mice. But the mice are clever and count down from ten until they all escape! In this bilingual book, children will enjoy counting up to and back from ten in two languages.

VIDEO

Everyday Fun with Counting

Learn simple, fun ways to help your little one build counting skills during everyday activities. From counting the number of toes on each foot to asking if your child wants more food, there are many ways to have everyday fun with counting. Watch the video here.

For more tips and information, please visit: www.talkingisteaching.org

