

Let's Talk About Diversity!

Sample Social Media Posts

Facebook

As your little one grows, you may notice that she has many questions about the differences and similarities between people. By encouraging these questions, you will show your child that it's good to talk and think about diversity and acceptance. For more tips on diversity from our partners @2SmallToFail, click here: <https://bit.ly/2AP67nq>

Help your child recognize the beauty in diversity. As you go on a walk outside, point out how each flower is a different color and shape. Ask, "how do different types of flowers make the world a more beautiful place?" For more tips on diversity from @2SmallToFail, click here: <https://bit.ly/2AP67nq>

Twitter

Talk with your little one about what makes everyone unique! "What makes you, you? What makes me, me?" #TalkingIsTeaching

Have a fun at-home dance party with songs that celebrate black children and their families! Find a playlist curated by @2SmallToFail and @NBCDI here: <https://bit.ly/2B2F2wZ>

At age 2, children begin to develop empathy skills. To help your child develop empathy, name and talk about your emotions and feelings together! Find more tips on raising empathetic children here: <https://bit.ly/3ewRqDd>